

The message of the Book of Acts provides clarity about how to be converted to Christ. Wrong ideas about how to follow God are corrected, the simplicity of the message is preserved, and the importance of the church holding to that message is addressed. The Jews had a lot of wrong ideas about what the messiah was bringing. God carefully and progressively changed their thinking (not without conflicts and disagreements). What Luke records helps us to see where they struggled with what was important about conversion. Luke uses repetition to emphasize important messages. The Apostles had to resolve what was essential for salvation and what was not.

5 Principles from Last Week:

1. It is only in the power and authority of Jesus’ name that salvation can and must be gained. Ac 4:32
2. The promise of God as given by the prophets was restated and repointed by Peter. Ac 2:38-39
3. The indwelling of the Holy Spirit in people has always been God’s goal and promise. Ez 11:19; 36:26-27; 37; Is 59:20-21
4. The Holy Spirit makes us one with the Father and with Jesus, and with one another. Jn 17:20-21
5. The Holy Spirit is a person, the Personal Spirit of God; He is not “the Force” and he is not an “it.” He has a number of names that reveal his purpose and his unity with the Father and Jesus. Ac 5:9; 16:6-7; Rm 8:9-11
